

Ode

- An ode is a poem, which expresses a great deal of enthusiasm for someone or something.
- Odes were meant to be sung.

Example:

Today
A new day begins
With golden streams
The dawn of rosy dreams
An up day!
A great day is Today.

On your first draft paper (yellow legal paper)

1. List some things or some events that really make you feel good.
2. Choose one of those events, objects or person from your list that you can “sing the praises of”.
3. List as many words that you might use to describe that item.
4. Now write your ode. It should contain a minimum of 6 lines.
