

We are Thankful

Alphabet Poem

- An alphabet poem is a poem in which the lines are in alphabetical order according to the first letter in each line. You may start with any letter, but the following lines must be in alphabetical order.

Example: I am Thankful For . . .

Animals who
Bring me love,
Cats, especially, and
Dogs, too.
Each new day.
Flowers
Growing
High
In my backyard.
Jelly in donuts.
Kisses from a puppy
Lunch with friends.

On your first draft paper (yellow legal paper)

- 1) Who are some people (other than family) that you are thankful for? Tell why.
- 2) What are some ideas of feelings or freedoms you are thankful for?
- 3) Using the form shown in the example of an alphabet poem, write your own "I am Thankful For . . ." poem. You may start with any letter, but you must have at least 12 lines!
