

Name: _____ Date: _____

History Chapter 1 Test Study Guide

1. When regions use specialization, they can produce goods at a lower cost.
2. Water and wind wear away the land in the process of erosion.
3. Mountains, trees, and distance from the equator all affect climate.
4. Scarcity is a condition where people have to decide what they want most.
5. What landforms are found in the western United States?

Sharp mountain peaks and deep canyons

6. Coal, natural gas, and oil are types of renewable natural resources.
7. Farm tractors and computers are a type of capital resources.
8. How did the geography and resources of San Diego, California, help it grow?

It's good harbor helped shipping and trade grow

9. What helped Denver's population grow from 1890 to 1990?

The discovery of gold and silver

10. What are ways that political and physical maps are different?

Physical maps show physical features such as landforms, bodies of water, or resources. Political maps show cities, states, and countries.